

HB 990 -- Petroleum Products Regulation

Sponsor: Fallert

This bill adds automotive lubricants to the list of petroleum products regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Automotive lubricants must meet the standards in the annual book of American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM); and if no standard exists, the department may adopt other generally recognized national consensus standards by rule.