Serve the ones who have served our country...

Every year volunteers provide thousands of hours of service to Missouri's seven veterans homes. Located in Cameron, Cape Girardeau, Mexico, Mount Vernon, St. James, St. Louis, and Warrensburg, these homes provide long-term skilled nursing care to veterans. We may never be able to repay them for their service, but we can show them how much we appreciate all they've done. Try volunteering at a veterans home, a great way to give back to the brave men and women who have served our country.

2015 Legislative Questionnaire

To do my best for you and our district, I am asking for your opinion in upcoming legislation. Please take a moment to fill out this form and return it to me. Your views are important to my work as your state representative.

EDUCATION

Between 2003 and 2012, total education spending increased by more than 30% in Missouri, but now stands $600 million less than the current requirement for fully funding our state's education finance formula. During this time, department of education data indicate the statewide average daily attendance dropped 1%, average ACT test scores increased 1%, and the number of graduates increased 9%. While the number of teachers increased 1% and average pay increased 21%, the number of superintendents and central office staff increased 8% and average pay increased 22%. Concurrently, there has been a 5% increase in graduates entering colleges or universities to nearly 69%.

2. Should Missouri's education finance formula be increased to its 'fully funded' level, adding an additional $600 million to Missouri's $26.2 billion state budget?

State law establishes specific measurable performance indicators for the determination of accreditation and success in public schools. The department of education is participating in an effort to standardize portions of school curricula and performance measures across the nation so that various measures can be applied, reviewed, and understood no matter where a child attends school in the United States.

3. Should Missouri's education department establish its own system of performance and curriculum standards?

- | VTR 1 | VTR 2 | |

| <input type="radio"/> | <input type="radio"/> | Yes |
| <input type="radio"/> | <input type="radio"/> | No |

4. Should Missouri's education department stay out of curriculum development and performance reviews because these are issues best handled by the local school district?

While only 11 of 520 school districts have found themselves falling short and being deemed as provisionally accredited by the state board of education, three additional school districts have altogether failed to achieve accreditation. In these circumstances, the state board of education steps in to take over management of the district. State law provides parents in these districts the option of transferring their children to other area school districts, with costs being paid by the unaccredited district without allowing the new district to decide whether to accept the students from the unaccredited district.

5. Should the state close unaccredited districts and transfer the students to other accredited public school districts?

PROTECTING LIFE

In 2010, the number of Missouri abortions dropped to under 10,000 for the first time in more than 20 years. Recently adopted laws have regulated abortion service providers by requiring additional time for a mother to make an informed choice before having an abortion, as well as prohibiting doctors from 'telecommuting' from other states and locations when counseling and performing abortions.

6. Should Missouri adopt more restrictive regulations on abortion service providers to further reduce the number of abortions occurring in the state?

PROTECTING THE SECOND AMENDMENT

Missouri voters adopted an amendment to Missouri's constitution in August, 2014 that indicated the right to keep and bear arms is unalienable and the state has an obligation to uphold this right. Missouri law currently requires that citizens seeking to legally carry a concealed weapon must first meet specific criteria and complete certification training before obtaining a permit. Last year, the legislature enacted a law to prohibit the department of revenue from scanning and maintaining various documents that have been used to renew a driver's license that may infringe on the privacy of citizens and concealed weapon carriers.

7. Should Missouri law be changed to eliminate the requirement for citizens to obtain a concealed weapons permit before lawfully carrying a concealed weapon?

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Recently, Washington and Colorado enacted laws allowing for legal recreational use of marijuana with certain restrictions. An additional 19 states currently allow for legal medicinal use of marijuana with certain restrictions. In Missouri, some local communities have sought to roll back certain municipal marijuana prohibitions.

8. Should Missouri law be changed to allow for the decriminalization of marijuana only for medicinal use?

AGRICULTURE

Supporting Missouri's Agriculture Industry (SB 12)

A bill meant to support the state's multi-billion dollar agriculture industry was signed into law in April. The bill has several provisions including the Dairy Revitalization Act that also was contained in HB 259. In addition, the bill will allow trucks to carry heavier loads of grains during harvest season and heavier livestock loads year-round. It also will allow the Department of Agriculture to better monitor foreign land acquisitions by requiring the department to review land sales only when buyers do not have proper tax documentation. In addition, the bill contains language to allow beef producers to vote to increase the state beef checkoff that is used to fund a marketing program to further promote beef and beef products; and it will protect livestock farmers from liability if someone is injured on their farm.

CHILDREN

Achieving a Better Life Experience Program (SB 174)

The legislature moved this session to create the "Missouri Achieving a Better Life Experience Program" to help Missourians save for the long-term needs of a child with disabilities. Under the bill, a participant may make tax-deductible contributions to an account established for the purpose of financing the qualified disability expenses of a designated beneficiary. The bill is meant to help people with disabilities achieve economic independence and greater financial security, and help them become less reliant on other public programs, while still being able to access necessary supports and services to live independently in their own homes and communities.

Protecting Children (SB 341)

Legislation takes several steps to ensure young people in Missouri are raised in safe and healthy environments. The bill will require licensed child care centers to follow current safe sleep standards recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics for children under the age of one.

The bill also requires all public, private, and parochial day care centers, preschools, and nursery schools to notify parents or guardians, upon request, of whether there are children at the facility with an immunization exemption.

The legislation also gives the Children's Division of the Missouri Department of Social Services authority to take action when it receives a report of a child under 14 with problem sexual behavior exhibiting inappropriate behavior against another child. Current law allows the division to investigate only abuse allegations against adults and other teens.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Paper and Plastic Bags (HB 722)

The legislature took action this session to ensure Missourians will continue to have the choice of paper or plastic bags at the grocery store. Legislation now on the governor's desk specifies that all merchants, itinerant vendors, and peddlers doing business in this state must have the option to provide customers with a paper or plastic bag for any item or good purchased. The bill also makes it clear that a political subdivision cannot impose any ban, fee, or tax upon the use of paper or plastic bags.

The bill also prohibits municipalities from mandating a "living wage" above the state minimum wage and other rules related to employee benefits.

ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

Sexual Education and Harassment Training (HB 501)

The General Assembly gave final approval to legislation meant to ensure young people are educated regarding the potential dangers of sexual predators and the increased risks associated with the Internet. The bill requires any course materials and instruction relating to human sexuality and sexually transmitted diseases in a public or charter school to teach students about the dangers of sexual predators, including on-line predators. Pupils must be taught how to behave responsibly and remain safe on the Internet and the importance of having open communication with responsible adults and reporting any inappropriate situation, activity, or abuse.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Campus Free Expression Act (SB 93)

The General Assembly approved legislation to protect free expression on the campuses of public institutions of higher education. The bill designates the outdoor areas of campuses of public institutions of higher education to be traditional public forums. Public institutions of higher education may maintain and enforce reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions in service of a significant institutional interest only when such restrictions employ clear, published content and viewpoint-neutral criteria, and provide for ample alternative means of expression.

A+ Schools Program Residency Requirement (SB 224)

Legislators gave final approval to legislation that would prevent illegal immigrants from receiving scholarship benefits through the state's A+ Schools Program. The bill requires a student to be a United States citizen or a permanent resident in order to receive benefits.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT

Unemployment Reform (HB 150)

The General Assembly approved and the House overrode the governor's veto of legislation meant to protect the state's unemployment system from insolvency in the event there is another economic downturn. The legislation is designed to make sure the state has enough money in its unemployment trust fund so that businesses don't lose a portion of a federal tax credit they normally receive. The bill requires increased payments from employers to help the state's Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund reach a balance that is capable of paying for benefits without going into debt. The bill also ties unemployment benefits to the average unemployment rate so that more benefits are available when unemployment is high. If the state were in a position of high unemployment (9 percent or higher) benefits would be available for 20 weeks. In periods of low unemployment (lower than 6 percent) benefits would be available for 13 weeks.

The bill still requires a successful veto override in the Senate before going into law.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Welfare Reform (SB 24)

Legislation that was enacted over the governor's veto will put the Strengthening Missouri Families Act into effect as law. The legislation will lower the lifetime benefits for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families recipients to 45 months from the current limit of 60 months. In addition, it will add Missouri to the list of 37 other states that require welfare recipients to take immediate steps to seek employment in order to receive benefits. The legislation then takes the savings generated by the reforms and invests them in child care, education, transportation, and job training assistance for participants in the TANF program.

VETERANS AND MILITARY

Making Missouri a Purple Heart State (HB 403)

The bill designates Missouri as a "Purple Heart State" to honor the state's combat wounded veterans for their service. The bill also removes any additional fees charged for subsequent sets of purple heart license plates.

VULNERABLE PERSONS

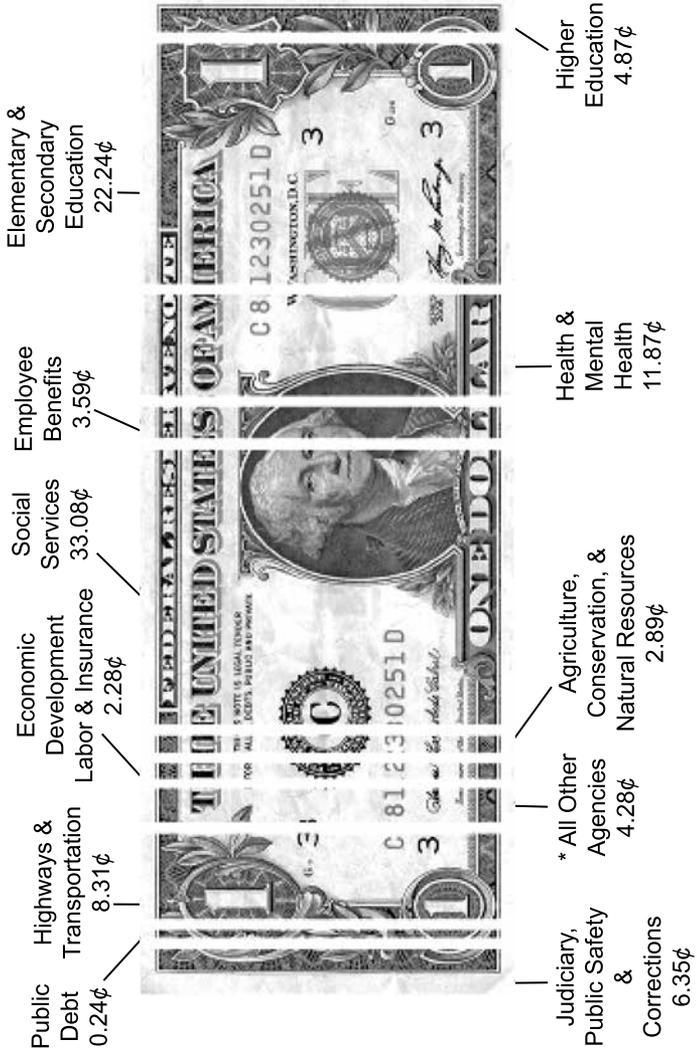

Money Follows the Person Program (HB 343)

A bill that received final legislative approval this year will establish a committee to assess the continuation of the Money Follows the Person Demonstration Program. The program works to support both aging and disabled Missourians to transition from nursing facilities or habilitation centers to quality community settings. The committee will study sustainability of the program beyond the current demonstration time frame for all transitions to occur by September 30, 2018.

Human Trafficking Task Force (HCR 38)

The General Assembly approved legislation to create the Human Trafficking Task Force with the mission of raising awareness of the human trafficking problem in Missouri and providing organizations and agencies that enforce human trafficking laws and assist victims with a central place to share information. The task force is charged with reporting a summary of its activities and making any recommendations for legislation to the General Assembly by January 1, 2017.
