Missouri House of Representatives

State Representative Colin Wellenkamp Assigned to Key House Committees for 103rd General Assembly

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. – State Representative Colin Wellencamp proudly announces his appointment to key House committees by House Speaker Jonathan (Jon) Patterson for the upcoming legislative session. Rep. Wellenkamp will serve on the House Budget Committee, the Conservation and Natural Resources Committee, the Local Government Committee, and the Subcommittee on Appropriations for General Administration.

"I am very pleased to serve the people of St. Charles and our great state in these added capacities," stated Wellenkamp, R-St. Charles. "I am honored to be placed on these consequential committees by Speaker Patterson, where I can pursue important issues on behalf of my constituents."

Wellenkamp emphasized the critical role of committees in shaping the state's legislative agenda. "I'm a firm believer in the committee process being the place where our policy work is truly developed and perfected," adding, "I'm excited to be working with Representatives Hinman, Deaton, Farnan, and Voss in their roles as committee chairs. This session is off to a good start, and I feel empowered to assist our cities and the state budget and restore and sustain our valuable natural infrastructure through these appointments."

Looking ahead to this session, Wellenkamp hopes to bring meaningful progress to the policies that impact Missourians. He looks forward to working collaboratively with his colleagues to ensure sound legislation and deliver results.

Rep. Colin Wellenkamp, a Republican, represents part of St. Charles County, (District 105) in the Missouri House of Representatives. Rep. Wellenkamp was elected to his first term in November 2024.
