JEFFERSON CITY, MO. – State Representative Tara Peters recently joined fellow Missouri legislators in Washington, D.C., for the White House Leadership Conference for Missouri. The conference provided a unique opportunity for Rep. Peters and other state officials to engage directly with Cabinet Secretaries and key members of the Trump Administration.

“I was honored to have the opportunity to attend this event in D.C. and to be invited by the Trump Administration,” stated Peters, R-Rolla.

During the conference, Rep. Peters and her colleagues participated in productive discussions focused on addressing the needs of Missourians. The insights gained from these interactions will be used to inform upcoming legislative efforts to enhance the well-being of communities across the state.

“Along with my fellow members of the House and Senate, I feel that our engagement with the administration will help to ensure that the constituents of Missouri can expect more effective legislation in 2026,” Peters added.

Rep. Peters remains committed to leveraging the knowledge and connections gained from the conference to craft impactful legislation that addresses the priorities of all Missourians.
