No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

DESCRIPTION

This proposal would require that one member of the board of curators of certain state institutions of higher education be a student.

- The next appointment to the board of curators of the University of Missouri after August 28, 2005 would be a student curator, whose term of service shall be two years or as long as the person maintains the status of a full-time student. The student curator would have the right to vote on any matter before the board. At the end of the student curator's term of service, the governor would appoint a current full-time student from the University of Missouri to serve as student curator.
- The next appointment to the board of governors of Southwest Missouri State University would be a current full-time student of Southwest Missouri State University whose title would be student governor. The student curator's term of service would be two years or as long as the person maintains the status of a full-time student. The student governor would have the right to vote on any matter before the board. At the end of the student governor's term of service, the governor of Missouri would appoint a current full-time student from Southwest Missouri State University to serve as student governor.
- The next appointment to the governing board of Truman State University would be a current full-time student, whose title would be student governor. The student governor's term of service would be two years, provided the person maintains the status of a full-time student. The student governor would have the right to vote on any matter before the board. At the end of the student governor's term of service, the governor of Missouri would appoint a current full-time student from Truman State University to serve as student governor.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
