FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Section 287.980, RSMo. - Workers' Compensation Claims Database:

The proposed language in this section would require the Division of Workers' Compensation to develop and maintain a workers' compensation claims database that the public can access on the Division's website.

IT impact

Officials from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations (DOLIR) assume inquiries would be made from the web on an inquiry screen to key in the claimant's name and last 4 digits of the claimant's social security number (SSN) rather than the entire SSN, which would produce a screen to show the results of the search. Department officials also assume the "date of claim" would mean the claim filed date with the Division of Workers' Compensation (Division) regardless of the date of the injury. Since the date of the injury is not a retrievable field to the user, the information provided could potentially be subject to misinterpretation and/or misuse. Results would be sorted by claim type; i.e. whether the claim was made against the employer's insurance or against the Second Injury Fund (SIF), and the results would indicate whether the claim is open or closed. Department officials stated that the estimated cost to develop a new web system and workers' compensation claims database is $22,806.

A nightly program would need to be developed to refresh the database with daily activity from the Division's computer system so updated claims information would be shown. The initial database would contain approximately 568,000 claim records with expected annual growth of approximately 13,000 records. The Division's current database covers employer insurance claims from 1986 to date and SIF claims from 1989 to date. Some claims from older years are entered, but not on a consistent basis.

It is likely that a search using a claimant's name (potential employee's name) and the last 4 digits of the claimant's SSN would return information on multiple claims. The search would not include information relating to claimants who are assigned a unique identifier in place of a SSN.

Additional screens would be required to capture the name and address of the employer requesting the information and to provide an employer registration process including a program to authenticate the employer registration process. A database and program would be required to capture the employer registration including the ability for an employer to change information such as the password used for on-line activity. The estimated cost for this process is $19,467.

An additional database and program would be required to capture and log on-line activity for each employer, including the date of each inquiry, the results of each inquiry, and the number of inquiries. An additional program would be required to bill the employer based on the number of successful inquiries and to maintain the payment status of each employer. The estimated cost for this process is $15,638.

Oversight notes the total DOLIR estimate of IT cost for system changes and updates in this proposal is $($22,806 + $19,467 + $15,638) = $57,911$.

Officials from the Office of Administration, Information Technology Services Division (OA-ITSD) provided an estimate of $57,911 for employees' salary costs related to this proposal; with employee benefits, the OA-ITSD estimate totaled $87,449.

Oversight assumes OA - ITSD (DOLIR) is provided with core funding to handle a certain amount of activity each year. Oversight also assumes OA-ITSD (DOLIR) could absorb the costs related to the current version of this proposal. If multiple bills pass which require additional staffing and duties at substantial costs, OA - ITSD (DOLIR) could request funding through the appropriation process.

Administrative impact

Officials from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations stated they are not able to determine whether the Department's fraud and noncompliance staff would need additional personnel to deal with the new responsibilities.

Oversight assumes the Department would not require additional staff to implement this proposal; if unanticipated additional work is required or if multiple proposals are implemented which increase the Department's workload, resources could be requested through the budget process.

Officials from Office of the State Public Defender (SPD) stated that for the purpose of the proposed legislation, and as a result of excessive caseloads, their organization could not assume existing staff would provide competent, effective representation for any new cases where indigent persons are charged with the proposed new crime of fraudulently accessing the Division of Worker's Compensation Claims database, a proposed new Class A Misdemeanor.

SPD officials also stated that while the number of new cases may be too few or uncertain to request additional funding for this specific bill, their organization would continue to request sufficient appropriations to provide competent and effective representation in all cases where the right to counsel attaches.

Oversight assumes the SPD could absorb the additional caseload that may result from this proposal.

Officials from the Office of State Courts Administrator assume the proposal would not have an impact in excess of $100,000.

Officials from the Office of the Attorney General assume that any potential costs arising from this proposal could be absorbed with existing resources.

Officials from the Department of Corrections assume this proposal could potentially have a minimal impact on their organization.

Officials from the Office of the Secretary of State, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules assume the proposal would have no fiscal impact to their organizations.

Officials from the Office of Prosecution Services, the Office of Administration - General Services Division, the Department of Public Safety - Division of Fire Safety, Capitol Police, Missouri Veterans Commission, Division of Alcohol and Tobacco Control, and State Emergency Management Agency assumed similar provisions in SB 526 LR 4280-01 would have no fiscal impact on their organizations.

Officials from the Office of Prosecution Services did not respond to our request for information.

Oversight assumes this proposal would have no fiscal impact on the state or on local governments.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
