FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the Office of Administration Division of Budget and Planning (B&P) assume this proposal adds disposable diapers for infants and adults to the Back-to-School sales tax holiday. B&P notes that per DOR's website, disposable diapers are already listed as approved clothing items for the purpose of the sales tax holiday. B&P further notes that the website does not make a distinction between infant and adult diapers. Therefore, B&P estimates that this proposal will not impact Total State Revenue or General Revenue. This proposal will not impact the calculation under Article X, Section 18(e).

Officials at the Department of Revenue assume there is no fiscal impact from this proposal.

Officials at St. Louis County assume it is too difficult to determine the loss of revenue; however, they anticipate the loss would be minimal.

Officials at the City of Kansas City assumes a minimal impact.

Officials at Boone County and the City of Columbia each assume there is no fiscal impact from this proposal as they opt-out of the local sales tax holiday.

Oversight notes that since diapers are already considered an approved clothing item per the Department of Revenue, this proposal would not have any additional fiscal impact.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

The proposed legislation appears to have no direct fiscal impact.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
