

HB 2331 -- ROOFING CONTRACTORS

SPONSOR: Houx

This bill requires the Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions and Professional Registration to create an examination that tests a roofing contractor's knowledge of general roofing practices. Roofing contractors in Missouri may choose to take this exam, and if they pass, have their names included in a searchable database of roofing contractors on the department's website.

This bill also states that beginning on January 1, 2019, any individual, firm, partnership, association, corporation, limited liability company, or other group or any combination of such acting as a unit may use a state of origin designation on business materials and advertisements signifying to the public that such company, entity, or group is a Missouri business that is registered with the Secretary of State as any type of entity other than a foreign corporation.

Anyone who falsely advertises having passed the exam or falsely uses the state of origin designation will be guilty of a class D misdemeanor.
