FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the Department of Corrections (DOC) assume this bill seeks to exclude those with serious mental illnesses from receiving a sentence of death. Although DOC mental health codes do not speak to specific mental illnesses, their needs are categorized from 1-5, 5 being severe impairment. A current distribution shows that 20% of death row offenders received a 1, 44% a 2, 32% a 3, and 4% a 4 or no rating. Clearly, 80% have some degree of mental health impairment.

The death penalty was reinstated in Missouri in 1977 with the first execution occurring in 1989. The average time for executing someone with a death sentence is 10 plus years, which is beyond the scope of fiscal analysis. There are currently 25 offenders awaiting a death sentence. The average age of these offenders is 49 years old. Eighteen of the offenders have spent more than ten years in prison and their average age is 50. The average age of natural death in prison is 55 years old, therefore this group can expect to spend an additional five years in prison. The average age of the remaining 7 is 49 years old and they can expect to spend an additional six years in prison. Finally, the youngest death row offender is 33 and the oldest is 64.

Because the rate of execution has been low, there were none in FY18 and one in FY17, the department does not expect any savings as a result of changing the statute regarding execution of offenders suffering from serious mental illness.

Officials at the Office of the State Courts Administrator, the Office of the Attorney General, the Department of Health and Senior Services, the Department of Mental Health, the Department of Social Services, the Office of the State Public Defender and the Office of Prosecution Services each assume no fiscal impact to their respective agencies from this proposal.

Oversight notes that the Department of Corrections, the Office of the State Courts Administrator, the Office of the Attorney General, the Department of Health and Senior Services, the Department of Mental Health, the Department of Social Services, the Office of the State Public Defender and the Office of Prosecution Services have stated the proposal would not have a direct fiscal impact on their organization. Oversight does not have any information to the contrary. Therefore, Oversight will reflect a zero impact on the fiscal note.
