AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1854, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

"188.015. As used in this chapter, the following terms mean:

(1) "Abortion":
   (a) The act of using or prescribing any instrument, device, medicine, drug, or any other means or substance with the intent to destroy the life of an embryo or fetus in his or her mother's womb; or
   (b) The intentional termination of the pregnancy of a mother by using or prescribing any instrument, device, medicine, drug, or other means or substance with an intention other than to increase the probability of a live birth or to remove a dead unborn child;

(2) "Abortion facility", a clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital;

(3) "Abortion-inducing drugs", mifepristone, misoprostol, and any drug or medication that is used to terminate the life of an unborn child. The term does not include birth-control devices or oral contraceptives, and it does not include Plan B, morning-after pills, or emergency contraception. The term also does not include drugs or medications that are possessed or distributed for a purpose that does not include the termination of a pregnancy;

(4) "Conception", the fertilization of the ovum of a female by a sperm of a male;

(5) "Department", the department of health and senior services;

(6) "Down Syndrome", the same meaning as defined in section 191.923;

(7) "Gestational age", length of pregnancy as measured from the first day of the woman's last menstrual period;

(8) "Medical emergency", a condition which, based on reasonable medical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert the death of the pregnant woman or for which a delay will create a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman;

(9) "Physician", any person licensed to practice medicine in this state by the state board of registration for the healing arts;

(10) “Pregnant woman” and “pregnant women”, any individual or individuals who are pregnant, regardless of any gender identity that the pregnant individual attempts to assert or claim;

(11) "Reasonable medical judgment", a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician, knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved;

(12) "Unborn child", the offspring of human beings from the moment of conception.
until birth and at every stage of its biological development, including the human conceptus, zygote, morula, blastocyst, embryo, and fetus;

[(14)] (13) "Viability" or "viable", that stage of fetal development when the life of the unborn child may be continued indefinitely outside the womb by natural or artificial life-supportive systems;

[(12)] (14) "Viable pregnancy" or "viable intrauterine pregnancy", in the first trimester of pregnancy, an intrauterine pregnancy that can potentially result in a liveborn baby[.];

(15) “Woman” and “women”, any person or group of persons whose biological sex is female, including any person with XX chromosomes and any person with a uterus, regardless of any gender identity that the person attempts to assert or claim."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 188.220, Line 4, by inserting after said section and line the following:

"188.805. 1. It is the policy of the state of Missouri to protect its unborn citizens from individuals and organizations that aid or abet the killing of unborn children, and to protect the unborn from those who seek to kill or otherwise harm them, to the maximum extent permissible under the Constitution and federal law.

2. Except as provided by subsection 3 of this section, it shall be unlawful for any person to perform or induce, or to attempt to perform or induce, an abortion on a resident or citizen of Missouri, or to aid or abet, or attempt to aid or abet, an abortion performed or induced on a resident or citizen of Missouri, regardless of where the abortion is or will be performed. The prohibition in this subsection includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Offering or knowingly providing transportation to or from an abortion provider;

(2) Giving instructions over the telephone, the internet, or any other medium of communication regarding self-administered abortion or means of obtaining elective abortions;

(3) Hosting or maintaining a website, or providing internet service that allows Missouri residents to access any website, that encourages or facilitates efforts to obtain elective abortions;

(4) Offering or providing money with the knowledge that it will be used to pay for, offset, or reimburse the costs of an abortion or the costs associated with procuring an abortion;

(5) Providing or arranging for insurance coverage of an abortion;

(6) Offering or providing “abortion doula” services;

(7) Providing referrals to an abortion provider;

(8) Coercing or pressuring a pregnant woman to have an abortion; and

(9) Engaging in any conduct that would make one an accomplice to abortion under sections 562.036 and 562.041.

3. Subsection 2 of this section does not prohibit:

(1) Abortions performed or induced in response to a life-threatening physical condition aggravated by, caused by, or arising from a pregnancy that, as certified by a physician, places the woman in danger of death or a serious risk of substantial impairment of a major bodily function unless an abortion is performed, or any conduct that aids or abets or attempts to aid or abet such abortions;

(2) Speech or conduct protected by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, as made applicable to the states through the Supreme Court of the United States’ interpretations of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, or by Article 1, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution;

(3) Conduct that the state of Missouri is forbidden to regulate under federal law or the Constitution of the United States;

(4) Conduct taken by a pregnant woman who aborts or seeks to abort her unborn child; or
(5) Conduct taken at the behest of federal agencies, contractors, or employees that are carrying out duties under federal law, if a prohibition on that conduct would violate the doctrines of preemption or intergovernmental immunity.

4. Notwithstanding any other law, the requirements of this section shall be enforced exclusively through the private civil actions described in section 188.820. No direct or indirect enforcement of this section may be taken or threatened by the state, a political subdivision, a district or county attorney, or any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision against any person or entity, by any means whatsoever, and no violation of this section may be used to justify or trigger the enforcement of any other law or any type of adverse consequence under any other law, except as provided in section 188.820.

188.810. 1. Abortion-inducing drugs are declared to be contraband in Missouri.

2. Except as provided by subsection 3 of this section, it shall be unlawful for any person to:

(1) Possess or distribute abortion-inducing drugs in Missouri;

(2) Mail, transport, or deliver abortion-inducing drugs in any manner to any person or location in Missouri;

(3) Provide information on how to obtain abortion-inducing drugs; or

(4) Host or maintain a website, or provide internet service that allows Missouri residents to access any website, that encourages or facilitates efforts to obtain abortion-inducing drugs.

3. Subsection 2 of this section does not prohibit:

(1) Speech or conduct protected by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, as made applicable to the states through the Supreme Court of the United States’ interpretations of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, or by Article 1, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution;

(2) Conduct that the state of Missouri is forbidden to regulate under federal law or the Constitution of the United States;

(3) Conduct taken by a pregnant woman who aborts or seeks to abort her unborn child;

(4) The possession or distribution of abortion-inducing drugs for a purpose that does not include termination of a pregnancy;

(5) The possession of abortion-inducing drugs resulting from an effort to entrap individuals or entities that violate this section; or

(6) Conduct taken at the behest of federal agencies, contractors, or employees that are carrying out duties under federal law, if a prohibition on that conduct would violate the doctrines of preemption or intergovernmental immunity.

4. Notwithstanding any other law, the requirements of this section shall be enforced exclusively through the private civil actions described in section 188.820. No direct or indirect enforcement of this section may be taken or threatened by the state, a political subdivision, a district or county attorney, or any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision against any person or entity, by any means whatsoever, and no violation of this section may be used to justify or trigger the enforcement of any other law or any type of adverse consequence under any other law, except as provided in section 188.820.

188.815. 1. Notwithstanding any other law, any person who manufactures, distributes, transports, provides, or aids or abets the manufacture, distribution, transportation, or provision of abortion-inducing drugs, including any person who hosts or maintains a website or provides internet service that allows individuals to access any website that encourages or facilitates efforts to obtain abortion-inducing drugs, shall be strictly, absolutely, and jointly and severally liable for the wrongful death of any unborn child or pregnant woman who dies from the use of abortion-inducing drugs, and for any personal injuries suffered by any unborn child or pregnant woman from the use of abortion-inducing drugs.

2. It is an affirmative defense if a person sued under this section:
   (1) Was unaware that he or she was engaged in the conduct described in subsection 1 of this section; and
   (2) Took every reasonable precaution to ensure that he or she would not manufacture, distribute, transport, provide, or aid or abet the manufacture, distribution, transportation, or provision of abortion-inducing drugs.

3. Notwithstanding any other law, if a plaintiff who brings suit under this section is unable to identify the specific manufacturer of the drug that caused the death or injury, liability shall be apportioned among all manufacturers of abortion-inducing drugs in proportion to each manufacturer’s share of the market for abortion-inducing drugs, in accordance with Sindell v. Abbott Laboratories, 607 P.2d 924 (Cal. 1980).

4. Notwithstanding any other law, a person may bring an action under this section not later than six years after the date the cause of action accrues.

5. Notwithstanding any other law, the following are not defenses to an action brought under this section:
   (1) Ignorance or mistake of law;
   (2) A defendant's belief that the requirements or provisions of this section are unconstitutional or were unconstitutional;
   (3) A defendant's reliance on any court decision that has been overruled on appeal or by a subsequent court, even if that court decision had not been overruled when the cause of action accrued;
   (4) A defendant's reliance on any state or federal court decision that is not binding on the court in which the action has been brought;
   (5) Non-mutual issue preclusion or non-mutual claim preclusion;
   (6) The consent of the unborn child's mother to the abortion;
   (7) Contributory or comparative negligence;
   (8) Assumption of risk; and
   (9) Any claim that the enforcement of this section or the imposition of civil liability against the defendant will violate the constitutional rights of third parties, except as provided by section 188.830.

6. Any waiver of the right to sue under this section shall be void as against public policy, and shall not be enforceable in any court.

7. This section shall not be construed to impose liability on speech or conduct protected by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, as made applicable to the states through the Supreme Court of the United States’ interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, or by Article 1, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution.

8. Notwithstanding any other law, a civil action under this section shall not be brought:
   (1) Against the woman who used abortion-inducing drugs to abort or attempt to abort her unborn child;
   (2) Against any person who acted at the behest of federal agencies, contractors, or employees that are carrying out duties under federal law, if the imposition of liability would violate the doctrines of preemption or intergovernmental immunity; or
   (3) By any person who impregnated the woman who used abortion-inducing drugs through an act of rape, sexual assault, or incest.

9. Notwithstanding any other law, including section 506.500, the courts of this state shall have personal jurisdiction over any defendant sued under this section to the maximum extent permitted by the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.
188.820. 1. Any person, other than the state, its political subdivisions, or any officer or employee of a state or local governmental entity in this state, may bring a civil action against any person or entity that:
   (1) Violates any provision of sections 188.805 and 188.810; or
   (2) Intends to violate any provision of sections 188.805 and 188.810.
2. If a claimant prevails in an action brought under this section, the court shall award;
   (1) Injunctive relief sufficient to prevent the defendant from violating sections 188.805 and 188.810;
   (2) Nominal and compensatory damages if the plaintiff has suffered injury or harm from the defendant’s conduct, including, but not limited to, loss of consortium and emotional distress;
   (3) Statutory damages in an amount of not less than ten thousand dollars; and
   (4) Costs and attorney's fees.
3. Notwithstanding subsection 2 of this section, a court shall not award relief under subdivision (3) or (4) of subsection 2 of this section in response to a violation of subdivision 1 of subsection 1 of this section if the defendant demonstrates that the defendant previously paid or has been ordered to pay the full amount of statutory damages under subdivision (3) of subsection 2 of this section in a previous action for that particular violation of section 188.805 or 188.810.
4. Notwithstanding any other law, a person may bring an action under this section not later than six years after the date the cause of action accrues.
5. Notwithstanding any other law, the following are not defenses to an action brought under this section:
      (1) Ignorance or mistake of law;
      (2) A defendant's belief that the requirements or provisions of this section are unconstitutional or were unconstitutional;
      (3) A defendant's reliance on any court decision that has been overruled on appeal or by a subsequent court, even if that court decision had not been overruled when the cause of action accrued;
      (4) A defendant's reliance on any state or federal court decision that is not binding on the court in which the action has been brought;
      (5) Non-mutual issue preclusion or non-mutual claim preclusion;
      (6) The consent of the unborn child's mother to the abortion;
      (7) Contributory or comparative negligence;
      (8) Assumption of risk; or
      (9) Any claim that the enforcement of this section or the imposition of civil liability against the defendant will violate the constitutional rights of third parties, except as provided by section 188.830.
6. It is an affirmative defense if a person sued under this section:
      (1) Was unaware that it was engaged in conduct described in Sections 188.805 and 188.810;
      and
      (2) Took every reasonable precaution to ensure that it would not violate sections 188.805
          and 188.810.
The defendant has the burden of proving an affirmative defense under this subsection by a preponderance of the evidence.
7. This section shall not be construed to impose liability on any speech or conduct protected by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, as made applicable to the states through the United States Supreme Court's interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, or by Article 1, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution.
8. Notwithstanding any other law, neither the state, any of its political subdivisions, any district or county attorney, nor any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision shall:
(1) Act in concert or participation with anyone who brings suit under this section;
(2) Establish or attempt to establish any type of agency or fiduciary relationship with a plaintiff who brings suit under this section;
(3) Make any attempt to control or influence a plaintiff’s decision to bring suit under this section or the plaintiff’s conduct of the litigation; or
(4) Intervene in any action brought under this section.

This subsection does not prohibit a person or entity described in this subsection from filing an amicus curiae brief in the action, so long as that person or entity does not act in concert or participation with the plaintiff or plaintiffs who sue under this section or violate any provision of this subsection.

9. Notwithstanding any other law, a court shall not award costs or attorney's fees to a litigant who is sued under this section.

10. Notwithstanding any other law, a civil action under this section shall not be subject to any provision in section 1.302.

11. Notwithstanding any other law, a civil action under this section shall not be brought:
   (1) Against a woman upon whom an abortion was performed or induced or attempted to be performed or induced in violation of this chapter, or against a pregnant woman who intends or seeks to abort her unborn child in violation of this chapter;
   (2) Against any person or entity that performs, aids or abets, or attempts to perform or aid or abet an abortion at the behest of federal agencies, contractors, or employees that are carrying out duties under federal law, if a prohibition on such abortion would violate the doctrines of preemption or intergovernmental immunity;
   (3) Against any common carrier that transports a pregnant woman to an abortion provider, if the common carrier is unaware that the woman intends to abort her unborn child; or
   (4) By any person who impregnated a woman seeking an abortion through an act of rape, sexual assault, or incest.

12. Notwithstanding any other law, including section 506.500, the courts of this state shall have personal jurisdiction over any defendant sued under this section to the maximum extent permitted by the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

188.830. 1. A defendant against whom an action is brought under section 188.815 or 188.820 may assert an affirmative defense to liability under this section if:
   (1) The defendant has standing to assert the rights of a woman or group of women seeking an abortion under the tests for third-party standing established by the Supreme Court of the United States; and
   (2) The imposition of civil liability on the defendant will result in an undue burden on a woman or group of women seeking an abortion.

The defendant has the burden of proving an affirmative defense under this section by a preponderance of the evidence.

2. The affirmative defense under subsection 1 of this section is not available if the Supreme Court of the United States overrules Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973) or Planned Parenthood v. Casey, 505 U.S. 833 (1992), regardless of whether the conduct on which the cause of action is based under section 188.815 or section 188.820 occurred before the Supreme Court overruled either decision.

3. Nothing in this section or chapter shall limit or preclude a defendant from asserting the defendant’s personal constitutional rights as a defense to liability under section188.815 or 188.820, and a court shall not award relief under section 188.815 or section 188.820 if the conduct for which the defendant has been sued was an exercise of state or federal constitutional rights that personally belong to the defendant.

4. Nothing in this section or chapter shall limit or preclude a defendant from asserting the unconstitutionality of any provision of this chapter or Missouri law as a defense to liability under section 188.815 or section 188.820.

188.835. 1. Notwithstanding any other law, including section 508.010, a civil action brought under section 188.815 or section 188.820 shall be brought in:

(1) The county in which all or a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred;

(2) The county of residence for any one of the natural person defendants at the time the cause of action accrued;

(3) The county of the principal office in this state of any one of the defendants that is not a natural person; or

(4) The county of residence for the claimant if the claimant is a natural person residing in this state.

2. If a civil action is brought under section 188.815 or section 188.820 in any one of the venues described in subsection 1 of this section, the action shall not be transferred to a different venue without the written consent of all parties.

188.840. 1. Notwithstanding any other law, the state shall have sovereign immunity, each of its political subdivisions shall have governmental immunity, and each officer and employee of this state or a political subdivision shall have official immunity, as well as sovereign or governmental immunity, as applicable, in any action, claim, counterclaim, or any type of legal or equitable action that challenges the validity of any provision or application of this chapter, on constitutional grounds or otherwise, or that seeks to prevent or enjoin the state, its political subdivisions, or any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision from enforcing any provision or application of this chapter, unless such immunity has been abrogated or preempted by federal law in a manner consistent with the Constitution of the United States.

2. Notwithstanding any other law, no provision of state law shall be construed to waive or abrogate an immunity described in subsection 1 of this section unless it expressly waives or abrogates immunity with specific reference to this section.

3. Notwithstanding any other law, no attorney representing the state, its political subdivisions, or any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision is authorized or permitted to waive an immunity described in subsection 1 of this section or take any action that would result in a waiver of such immunity.

4. Notwithstanding any other law, no court of this state shall have jurisdiction to consider any action, claim, or counterclaim that seeks declaratory or injunctive relief to prevent the state, its political subdivisions, any officer or employee of this state or a political subdivision, or any person from enforcing any provision or application of this chapter, or from filing a civil action under this chapter.

5. Nothing in this section or chapter shall be construed to prevent a litigant from asserting the invalidity or unconstitutionality of any provision or application of this chapter or Missouri law as a defense to any action, claim, or counterclaim brought against that litigant.

188.850. 1. Mindful of Leavitt v. Jane L., 518 U.S. 137 (1996), in which in the context of determining the severability of a state statute regulating abortion the Supreme Court of the United States held that an explicit statement of legislative intent is controlling, it is the intent of the legislature that every provision, section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word in this chapter, and every application of the provisions in this chapter to every person, group of persons, or circumstances, are severable from each other.

2. If any application of any provision in this chapter to any person, group of persons, or circumstances is found by a court to be invalid, preeempted, unconstitutional, or to impose an undue burden on any woman or group of women seeking an abortion, then the remaining applications of such provision to all other persons and circumstances shall be severed and preserved and shall remain in effect. All constitutionally valid applications of the provisions in this chapter, and every application of those provisions that can be enforced without imposing an undue burden on women seeking abortions, shall be severed from any applications that a court finds to be invalid, preeempted, unconstitutional, or to impose an undue burden on women seeking abortions, and the valid applications shall remain in force, because it is the legislature's intent and priority that every valid application be allowed to stand alone. Even if a reviewing court finds a provision of this chapter to impose an undue burden in a large or substantial fraction of relevant cases, the applications that do not present an undue burden shall be severed from the remaining applications and shall remain in force, and shall be treated as if the legislature had enacted a statute limited to the persons, group of persons, or circumstances for which the statute's application does not impose an undue burden.

3. The legislature further declares that it would have enacted this chapter, and each provision, section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, word, and all constitutional applications of the provisions of this chapter, irrespective of the fact that any provision, section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word, or applications of this chapter were to be declared invalid, preeempted, unconstitutional, or to impose an undue burden.

4. If any provision of this chapter is found by any court to be unconstitutionally vague, then the applications of that provision that do not present constitutional vagueness problems shall be severed and remain in force, consistent with the severability requirements of subsections 1, 2, and 3 of this section.

5. No court may decline to enforce the severability requirements of subsections 1, 2, 3, and 4 of this section on the ground that severance would rewrite the statute or involve the court in legislative or lawmaker activity. A court that declines to enforce or enjoins a state official from enforcing a statutory provision does not rewrite a statute, as the statute continues to contain the same words as before the court's decision. A judicial injunction or declaration of unconstitutionality:

(1) Is nothing more than an edict prohibiting enforcement that may subsequently be vacated by a later court if that court has a different understanding of the requirements of the Missouri Constitution or United States Constitution;

(2) Is not a formal amendment of the language in a statute; and

(3) No more rewrites a statute than a decision by the executive not to enforce a duly enacted statute in a limited and defined set of circumstances.

6. If any state or federal court disregards the severability requirements of subsections 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5 of this section, and declares or finds any provision of this chapter facially unconstitutional, when there are discrete applications of that provision can be enforced against a person, group of persons, or circumstances without violating federal law, the federal or state constitutions, or imposing an undue burden on women seeking abortions, then that provision shall be interpreted, as a matter of state law, as if the legislature had enacted a provision limited to the persons, group of persons, or circumstances for which the provision's application will not violate federal law, the federal or state constitutions, or impose an undue burden on women seeking abortions, and every court shall adopt this saving construction of that provision until the court ruling that pronounced the provision facially unconstitutional is vacated or overruled."

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references.
